AGENDA AND KEY OUTCOMES

No	Description
1	This meeting was dedicated to a single-point agenda on the discussion on changes/amendments to the current list of ToRs for the Panel, which have been in place since 2014. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Aurel introduced the objectives of this discussion, and presented a synthesis of the members' input prepared by the ToR Task Team; • Material for this discussion was placed on the Panel's Google Drive, including the suggestions from various panel members. Before considering the individual ToRs, the participants first discussed some of the fundamental aspects around what the Panel should consider and why. The following are the highlights of the discussion: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Andy Turner provided an overview of how the current set of ToRs came about and what the reasoning was behind the directions indicated by the current ToRs. Mentioned here was the aim to stay fairly generic in the expression of the ToRs; additionally, with the new GEWEX linkages added to the initially just CLIVAR-based monsoon panel (which in turn was a consolidation of the work done by the erstwhile CLIVAR regional panels), the cross-linkages to GEWEX activities needed to be explicitly addressed; • The participants agreed that the ToRs should be generic and more of a guiding nature, so to facilitate capturing as many activities as possible for short-term work plans; • The participants recognized the need to differentiate between the ToRs expressing the Vision of the Panel and providing guidance on the overall direction and mandates for the Panel's work, and the more focussed set of the associated activities which should constitute the Annual Planning for the panel; • Surya expressed concern about too much time being taken for the protracted discussions on the ToRs, and urged the Panel to wrap this up quickly and get started on some tangible work plans to address the key priorities of practical significance; • Kumar highlighted the need for a specific focus on research-operations linkages, keeping in view the fact that research advances are not being optimally feeding into improvement of operational practices. The participants referred to the occasional participation of Panel members in Regional Climate Outlook Forums (RCOFs), which needs to be further expanded and built upon to evolve a more systematic approach; • The Annual reporting to the SSGs of CLIVAR and GEWEX is already on the ToRs and routinely included in the Panel's work plans; this is where we would set priorities for the coming year(s), which will also facilitate broader discussion and high-level endorsement; • Some of these priorities could include the development of "white papers" (e.g., on monsoon predictability at different time scales, modelling skills in representing the monsoons, articulation of key gaps in our knowledge about monsoons that need greater research focus, etc.)

The participants agreed that this discussion was valuable and necessary. The next step will be the actual translation of these thoughts into the ToRs – either to retain the existing ones or re-phrase some of them to better reflect the Panel’s vision. The Co-chairs emphasized the need to get ALL panel members involved in this discussion.

On a side point, the ongoing changes to both WMO and WCRP governance structures were mentioned and the participants agreed that we should try to have a better understanding on what these are and how they might affect the Monsoons Panel. The participants requested ICPO and ICMPO to support this discussion with further documentation and presentations in due course.
